

Biography for Ms Holly Perry

A Level Student

Simon Langton Girls Grammar School

Studying: Maths, Geography, Biology

Holly is a school student in the UK. She attends Simon Langton Girls Grammar School where she is studying for her A Levels in Maths, Geography and Biology. Holly hopes to study Human Sciences or Anthropology at University and her first choices are the University of Oxford or Durham University. Holly is a student member of the Royal Geographical Society.

Holly recently attended a Sutton Trust Summer School at Durham University where she spent a week studying Archaeology and Anthropology at undergraduate level. Holly has a keen interest in the world around her and has attended many science festivals from a young age with her Mother, who is also presenting at the conference. Her hobbies include Army Cadets and she was awarded the Best Junior NCO Cadet in 2016.

Holly says “From a young age I have been interested in the world around me but more recently I have realised it is the humans that surround me which interest me most. I am looking forward to attending the conference and meeting many people from around the world.”