

Dr. Vasseur is a full professor in the Department of Biological Sciences at Brock University where she is also a member of the Women and Gender Studies program and the Environmental Sustainability Research Centre. Since 2014, she holds the UNESCO Chair on Community Sustainability: from local to global at Brock. She is the Vice-Chair for North America and Caribbean Region of the Commission for Ecosystem Management of the International Union for Conservation of Nature where she also leads the thematic group on Ecosystem Governance. Her research program is highly interdisciplinary and links issues such as community-based ecosystem management, climate change adaptation and resilience and sustainable agriculture. Her community-research work with the City of greater Sudbury led her to receive in 2011 the Latornell Pioneers Award from Conservation Ontario. She has produced over hundred publications and more than 200 presentations as a researcher. She works in China, where she is a Minjiang Scholar at Fujian Agriculture and Forestry University and Ecuador. Dr. Vasseur is currently the President of the Canadian Coalition of Women in Engineering, Science, Trades and Technology and President-Elect of the International Network of Women Engineers and Scientists.
